BOSCH
Invented for life

YourDay @ BoschEngineering in Abstatt on April 25th, 2008

"Made by Bosch" stands for outstanding quality of a global player. Profit from the multitude of career opportunities in an internationally positioned company. Bosch Engineering GmbH (BEG) is an internationally operating subsidiary of Robert Bosch GmbH, which performs complex development tasks for automobile and engine manufacturers in Germany and other countries. Our fields of activity include engine management for gasoline and diesel engines, vehicle dynamic systems, restraint systems, energy management, overall system solutions for electronic control systems, process consulting and motorsports. The Bosch Engineering GmbH is headquartered at our new development center in Abstatt approximately 40 kilometers north of Stuttgart.

At our YourDay @ BoschEngineering you will have the opportunity to obtain insights into our work areas of software/function development and application within technical talks and practical demonstrations. You will also be given a tour through our Application Test Center and measurement facilities. Our employees and managers will be available for personal discussions. Furthermore you will receive information on career opportunities in our company.

If you regard innovative electronic solutions as a challenge, possess a cooperative way of working, great dedication and the high ability to work in a team, and if you ideally have gained initial experience of working abroad, we look forward to receiving your application.

We welcome young professionals (f/m), university graduates (f/m) and students (f/m) in the final year of their degrees in the following subjects:

- ▶ Automotive technology
- ▶ Mechatronics
